

EASON WELL

They grind as well as the cars drive, these salt and pepper grinders in beechwood, $9/pair, are from the Peugeot of France. Call Sheldon & Hammond.

hurry curry

If you've got a taste for the exotic, you'll love the MSG-free range of Malaysian, Thai and Indian curries from Miss Khoo's Asian Deli - and check out the sexy packaging. Call Specialty Gourmet Foods Australia for stockists. Spices from $4.95, sauces from $6.95.

STREAMLINE

In the 50s, white fridge, white oven. In the 90s, stainless steel blended with the oven and dishwasher. So what's next? Feature panel doors to match the splashback. Jenn-Air's latest fridge range includes models with mint or grey feature panels and a smart aluminium trim. From $8699. Contact Sampford & Staff.

choc shock

Don't have a sweet tooth? Well, prepare to be converted. Chocolate by Linda Collister ($45, Ryland Peters & Small) is, as its name suggests, a book of pure, drool-inducing choccy temptations.

brewer's delight

Styled in Milan by the people who invented the commercial espresso machine back in 1938, the Gaggia Synchrony Compact gives you a professional standard brew at home in just 30 seconds, bean-to-cup (that includes grinding!). It's $1299. Contact Shriro Housewares. For stockists see page 159

